

Ship detained in Ceuta over bunker spill

Sam Chambers

July 23, 2024

Spanish Sea Rescue

A 31-year-old general cargo ship run by Germany's NautiCore Shipping has been detained in the Spanish enclave of Ceuta on the North African coastline over a bunker spill.

Authorities will not let the Antigua & Barbuda-flagged vessel, called Tony Stark, leave until it has paid a bail of $130,000.

Last week, trails of fuel oil were detected in front of Benitez beach, the breakwaters of the port and San Amaro beach in Ceuta, in the Alboran Sea.